

Privacy Statement

Making sure the Information on our website is easily accessible to all is a high priority. Below we provide information about the security and privacy of the James Brown Architects website. We want all our customers to be confident using our site, particularly the use of personal information.

James Brown Architects is committed to ensuring the privacy of all our customers. All information is collected and processed in accordance with the UK's Data Protection Act 1998. James Brown Architect's Privacy Policy only applies to the James Brown Architects website and does not apply to the practices of companies that James Brown Architects does not own or control, or to people that James Brown Architects does not employ or manage.

Use of Personal Information

- We will never send unsolicited email and we will only send you information about our services if requested by you to do so.
- We will not disclose information regarding our clients to third parties unless the client has first given their consent.
- Information collected about the client is used only for the provision of our services to the client. This information is not used for any other purpose.
- If you have any concerns about privacy matters please contact us using our get in touch page.
- We use cookies for collecting user information from the site. However, we will not collect any information about you except that required for ensuring a high level of service.

What information do we collect?

We collect information from you if;

- you submit an enquiry by email, post or telephone phone
- this website uses cookies to collect data

What do we use your information for?

Any of the information we collect from you may be used in one or more of the following ways:

- to respond via supplied contact details regarding your enquiry (by email, telephone or post)
- to personalise your experience (your information helps us to better respond to your individual needs)
- to improve our website (we continually strive to improve our website offerings based on the information and feedback we receive from you)

How do we protect your information?

Data is not stored on this website. Emails are stored on the recipient computer / device. Email and computers are protected by password encryption.

Do we disclose any information to outside parties?

We do not sell, trade, or otherwise transfer to outside parties any personally identifiable information. This does not include trusted third parties who assist us in operating our website, conducting our business, or consultants servicing you. Such trusted parties may have access to personally identifiable information on a need-to-know basis and will be contractually obliged to keep your information confidential. We may also release your information when we believe release is appropriate to comply with the law, enforce our site policies, or protect ours or others rights, property, or safety.

Your Consent

By using our website and services you consent to this privacy policy.

Changes to our Privacy Policy

If we decide to change our privacy policy, we will post those changes on the website, and/or update the Privacy Policy modification date below. This policy was last modified on May 25th, 2018.

Contacting us (GDPR Data Officer)

If there are any questions regarding this privacy policy please email - contact below. Thank you.